

Community Impact Planning

Co-funded by the European Union

Let's get ready

This lesson is about:

understanding community needs and how you can contribute positively, brainstorming and planning a meaningful project, analyzing problems and proposing feasible solutions, learning to take ownership of social issues and acting to make a difference.

Let's start

What responsibilities do we have in our community?
Can you think of some actions that have made a big difference?

Action plan development

Brainstorming solutions

Let's discuss

Brainstorming solutions

Your final action plan

Identifying community issues

Problems in our community

Let's brainstorm problems you've noticed in your own community.

Brainstorming solutions

What solutions do all the teams have in common?
How can you build others in the community?
What impact do you hope to achieve?

Possible problems in our community

Problems in our community

Discuss and choose one issue per group that resonates most with you.

Let's present

Let's discuss

Let's make it

Do you agree?

The meeting was not a single event. It was an ongoing and continuous process. It's important to be flexible in the strategies we use.

The most effective leaders often consider effective strategies, knowledge and the cost or context. Being open to trying new techniques can help us overcome these obstacles and successfully.

Let's reflect

- I can share some of my role in contributing to societal well-being.
- I gained confidence in identifying problems and proposing actionable solutions.
- I feel inspired to take responsibility for making a positive difference in their community.

Let's get ready

This lesson is about:

understanding community needs and how you can contribute positively.

brainstorming and planning a meaningful project.

analyzing problems and proposing feasible solutions.

learning to take ownership of social issues and acting to make a difference.

Let's start

What responsibilities do we have to our community?

Can you think of small actions that have made a big difference?

Identifying community issues

Problems in our community

Let's brainstorm problems you've noticed in your own community.

Possible problems in our community

Problems in our community

Discuss and choose one issue per group that resonates most with you.

Brainstorming solutions

What resources would you need to solve this problem?

How can you involve others in the community?

What impact do you hope to achieve?

image by Drazen Zigic on Freepik

Action plan development

Your brief action plan

Think about:

- the problem you are addressing
- your proposed solution
- steps needed to implement the solution
- any potential challenges and how to overcome them

Let's present

Let's discuss:

image by Freepik

What did you learn about your community through this activity?

How can small actions lead to meaningful change?

What is one step you can take this week to contribute to your community?

Let's reflect

- I am more aware of my role in contributing to societal well-being
- I gained confidence in identifying problems and proposing actionable solutions
- I feel inspired to take responsibility for making a positive difference in their community